

Jonathan Legg

Conscious Travel Insights for Business and Life

Jonathan Legg is a veteran adventure traveler and TV host/producer, specializing in off-the-beaten-path destinations. After decades of strange, wondrous, and hair-raising experiences, he's extracted timeless principles from the edges of our planet.

Youth, ready to throw on their first rucksacks; digital nomads, hoping to discover something life-changing over the horizon; and the swamped executive, who's never had the time to explore the world, will all find deep insight in these presentations.

Jonathan teaches unique techniques, skills, and perspectives in an interactive style, chock full of captivating stories, that are designed to invigorate, encourage, and revolutionize your life and career.

Keynotes

What the Entrepreneur Can Learn from the Traveler

Just as the value of hard work is easily demonstrated through physical exercise, the principles of innovative entrepreneurship are made clear by conscious travel. Movement into the unknown, the uncomfortable, and the unusual can turn you and your business into game-changers. However, it's easy to miss these narrow trails. Well-worn grooves pull most away from the richest rewards. Escaping the ruts of mainstream tourism, Jonathan has found, at the margins, the lost keys to innovative, meaningful, and rewarding lives and careers.

- What do three old witches, in a panther-infested jungle, have to teach us about sabotaging entrepreneurial potential?
- How can a vampire, in the catacombs underneath Paris, guide you to more fulfillment in your endeavors?
- Why is a showdown with the backgammon champ of Istanbul the perfect example for troubleshooting your setbacks?

Also available as a workshop, webinar, podcast interview, or virtual summit.*

The 7 Realizations of the Conscious Traveler

Whether by switching on Netflix, or buying a plane ticket to a foreign land, we humans love to immerse ourselves in other worlds. What do we hope to find there, and could you be narrowly missing the very thing you seek?

In a presentation designed for students ready to launch into the world, digital nomads hoping to broaden their horizons, and anyone with an explorer's heart; Jonathan shares the most revelatory epiphanies from filming throughout the overlooked corners of the planet.

- Learn three techniques that will transform an unmemorable trip into the adventure of a lifetime.
- Discover how to protect your money from misguided costs, avoid scam artists, and identify the traps waiting for the unaware (including a dangerous one the educated often fall into).
- Find the overlooked angles that will enable you to build community, derive deeper meaning in your work, and evolve into your best self.

Also available as a workshop, webinar, podcast interview, or virtual summit.*

